

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:Trestle Group Wins Inaugural EOA Award for Corporate Social ResponsibilityInnovative Trestle Group Foundation Empowers Women Entrepreneurs

Brussels, Belgium – June 28, 2010 – Trestle Group was presented the Award for Corporate Social Responsibility at the European Outsourcing Association’s 2010 Summit and Inaugural Awards – Promoting Excellence in Pan-European Outsourcing. The award celebrated the most successful corporate responsibility projects across Europe. Trestle Group, Microsoft and King Sturge competed for the top honor.

“We are honored to win this inaugural award for corporate social responsibility,” said Ralph Schonenbach, Trestle Group CEO. “Our innovative foundation directly supports high-potential women entrepreneurs in emerging economies,” he continued. “These successful women-led companies create economic opportunity, spread economic development, and encourage social progress. They are vital contributors to the global economy,” Schonenbach concluded.

The 2010 EOA Summit in Brussels brought together the world’s leading outsourcing suppliers, end users and support service providers for a two day conference focusing on the latest innovations, trends and developments in outsourcing. The EOA is the only pan-European Association for effective business & process outsourcing.
